

I am responding only to Q3 of the consultative document. I suggest that the Committee consider a more substantive review of two areas: first, cross-border governance and senior management accountability in banking groups; second, the regulatory integration of stablecoins and the structuring of payment systems between fiat currency and the digital economy. Both areas are becoming increasingly important as cross-border financial activity, digitalisation and payment innovation continue to reshape banking.