

Bank Indonesia – IFC Workshop on “Big Data for Central Bank Policies”
Bali, 23-25 July, 2018

CALL FOR PAPERS

This call invites the submission of presentations on the topic of central banks' utilization of Big Data in one of the following areas:

1. News and social media analysis
2. Macroeconomic nowcasting with large datasets
3. Understanding market behavior
4. Internet, mobile phone, and sensor data analysis
5. Systemic risk assessment

Accepted submissions will be presented in the last day of the Workshop, 25 July 2018. Please refer to the Workshop programme on the BIS/IFC events web page (<https://www.bis.org/ifc/events.htm>) for the complete schedule.

For selected presenters, we will provide three-night accommodation in the workshop venue, namely The Ritz-Carlton Nusa Dua, Bali. Please note that the accommodation will be for one person only, checking in on 24 July and checking out on 27 July. All other expenses should be covered by presenters.
