Premiering in 2005

International Journal of Central Banking

The International Journal of Central Banking (IJCB), a new quarterly publication jointly sponsored by the world’s major central banks (including the G-10 central banks, the European Central Bank, and the Bank for International Settlements) as well as many emerging-market central banks, seeks submissions for its premier issue, slated for publication in early 2005.

The editors are soliciting manuscripts of high analytical quality on the theory and/or practice of central banking, with special emphasis on research bearing on monetary and financial stability.

Topic areas of published research will include but not be limited to macroeconomics, monetary economics, econometric modeling, finance and capital markets, banking and financial intermediation, the analysis of payments systems, prudential regulation and supervision, issues relating to domestic and international financial stability, and international finance more generally.

For complete submission guidelines, visit http://gemini.econ.umd.edu/ijcb/ijcbcall.htm or e-mail BDM-IJCB-EDITOR@frb.gov for more information.

Editor: Ben Bernanke, Federal Reserve Board
Co-editors: Hyun Shin, London School of Economics; Frank Smets, European Central Bank; Kazuo Ueda, Bank of Japan; Michael Woodford, Columbia University
